The search for the murderer of the London actor has been marked by some peculiarities that have made the case stand out. The setting of the murder is unusual, and the presence of the murderer in the garden is a mystery. The police have been working on the case for days, but so far they have been unable to find any clues.

The actor was found dead in his garden last night. He had been stabbed to death with a sharp object. The police have been searching the area for any evidence that might help them identify the murderer.

Detective Mitchell, who is in charge of the case, said, "We have exhausted all possibilities. We have searched the garden and the surrounding area, but so far we have found nothing that might help us identify the murderer."

The murderer was found to be a man who had been seen in the area at the time of the murder. He had been seen with the actor just before the murder took place.

The police are now searching for this man, who is believed to be the murderer. They have asked the public for any information that might help them identify him.

Detective Mitchell added, "We are working on the case as fast as we can. We are doing everything we can to find the murderer and bring him to justice."

The police have also been looking for any clues that might help them identify the motive for the murder. The actor was an well-known actor who had been involved in several productions in recent months. He had been in good health and had no known enemies.

The police are now working on the case as fast as they can. They are doing everything they can to find the murderer and bring him to justice.
