ILLITERATE MAN BECOMES A DOCTOR WHEN HYPNOTIZED

Strange Power Shown by Edgar Cayce Puzzles Physicians.

Ludie B. Cayce, Father of the Hypnotic Patient.

Ludie B. Cayce, father of the hypnotic patient, was presented by Edgar Cayce at the meeting of the American Medical Association in St. Louis, May 12, to demonstrate the powers of the mind and the effects of hypnotism.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dr. W. H. Knight, of Chicago, and the first speaker was Dr. W. H. Kettler, who introduced the patient. The patient, a man of about 50, was dressed in a white suit, and his face was bearded. He was seated in a chair, and his eyes were closed.

Dr. Kettler described the patient as a man who had been hypnotized by Dr. Cayce, and who had shown remarkable powers of concentration.

The patient was then hypnotized, and Dr. Kettler asked him a series of questions. The patient answered every question correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of words, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the words correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of numbers, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the numbers correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of dates, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the dates correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of scientific terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of geographical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of musical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of mathematical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of historical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of chemical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of biological terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of literary terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of scientific terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of geographical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of musical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of mathematical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of historical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of chemical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of biological terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of literary terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of scientific terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of geographical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of musical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of mathematical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of historical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of chemical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of biological terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of literary terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of scientific terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of geographical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of musical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of mathematical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of historical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of chemical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of biological terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of literary terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of scientific terms, which he had not been able to remember before.

The patient repeated the terms correctly, and his face remained perfectly calm.

Dr. Kettler then asked the patient to repeat a series of geographical terms, which he had not been able to remember before.