RICH AMERICANS REVIVING THE ROMAN FAD FOR "BATHS"

The fitness pool is in a Spectoral Building.

Looking out from the Spectoral Pool.

In the early times, "pool parties" were held in the homes of the wealthy, but now the trend has moved to public facilities. Modern Thermae, that rival anything they had in Rome or Byzantium, have been erected just so that Croesus and his friends can wash themselves in comfort.

The pool is a feature of the new "spectral" building, which was designed by Charles V. Petersen, a noted architect, and has been constructed at a cost of $500,000. The pool is 50 feet long and 20 feet wide, and is heated to 90 degrees. It is surrounded by a surrounding colonnade, and is covered with a glass roof.

JEAN JAURES PLANS "THE ARMY THAT IS TO SAVE FRANCE"

For many years Jean Jaures has been the leader of the Socialist party in France. He is now planning to form an army that will save France.

Socialist Leader Accepts Clemenceau's Challenge and Shows Advantage of a Great Militia.

The "army that is to save France" is being formed by Jean Jaures, the Socialist leader. He has accepted the challenge of Georges Clemenceau, who has called for a great militia to save France.

In a speech last week, Jaures said: "We shall form an army that will save France. We shall form a great militia that will be the salvation of our country."

The "army that is to save France" will be composed of all men of military age, regardless of their political beliefs. It will be a volunteer army, and enlistments will be open to all who are willing to serve.

The plan is to form this army in the first year of the new French republic, which will be established by the Socialists. Jaures said: "We shall form this army in the first year of the new republic. We shall form it in a practical way, and we shall not hesitate to use force if necessary."

The "army that is to save France" will be equipped with the latest weapons, and will be trained to fight as well as any army in Europe. It will be a great hope for the future of France, and will be the salvation of our country.