ELECTRIC MACHINE TO TELL GUILT OF CRIMINALS

If It Is Perfected So As to Be Infallible It Will Make Expert Testimony Unnecessary and May Eliminate Juries in Trials.

HE南

Where the Subject is Entranced. The Investigator sits at the white Table on the Right.

The Psychometrist, showing the Ground Glass Scale.

Jenius claims that his apparatus proved that the human body's influence is an emanation of the soul.

A Portrait of the Psychometrist, Mr. F. J. B. F. Jenius, the Inventor of the Electrical Phenomenon.

The Psychometrist, showing the Ground Glass Scale.

Jenius claims that his apparatus proved that the human body's influence is an emanation of the soul.

A Portrait of the Psychometrist, Mr. F. J. B. F. Jenius, the Inventor of the Electrical Phenomenon.

The Psychometrist, showing the Ground Glass Scale.

Jenius claims that his apparatus proved that the human body's influence is an emanation of the soul.

A Portrait of the Psychometrist, Mr. F. J. B. F. Jenius, the Inventor of the Electrical Phenomenon.

The Psychometrist, showing the Ground Glass Scale.

Jenius claims that his apparatus proved that the human body's influence is an emanation of the soul.

A Portrait of the Psychometrist, Mr. F. J. B. F. Jenius, the Inventor of the Electrical Phenomenon.