"ENCHANTESS" BEWITCHES ALL AT MURDER TRIAL

Even the Judge Is Not Proof Against the Fascinations of the Countess Tarnovsky in Venice's Sensational Case.

Nicholas Naumoff, Accused of Shooting Count Tarnovsky, in Charge as Officer.

President ordered the following letter written to the emperor in the words of the Empress, and then placed it in the judge's hands: "The Empress wished to have the case of Countess Tarnovsky tried in her absence, but the judge, seeing the Countess' power, did not feel confident enough to try her."
